

The Cleo® 90 infusion cannula is a single-use disposable device used in a variety of infusion therapies (including insulin), making insertions quick and convenient in the home. The enclosed needle retracts automatically into the housing after insertion, reducing the risk of accidental needlestick injuries.

FEATURES & BENEFITS

- All-in-one design make insertions simple and allow insertion speed control
- Enclosed needle retracts automatically, reducing the risk of accidental injury
- Hypoallergenic dressing is designed to breathe and stay in place with less tape
- 360° site tubing connection provides greater flexibility
- Easy-to-use design allows insertion with a single motion using one hand
